Liraasa Phonetic Recording Script

Oct 16, 2026 · @Nicolas Peter Bularides

Before you record

This script is a real speech, not a list of syllables: 58 grammatical sentences, every one built from the 1.0 lexicon and passing the validator. It still contains every sound and sound-pair the language has (see the last section). Real sentences matter for training, because a model also needs to learn Liraasa's rhythm, its unstressed particles and how words run into each other.

Discard the earlier draft. The first attempt at this request in our chat used sounds Liraasa does not have (w, zh, initial bl-, dr-, gr-), put stress on the first syllable, and contained 884 words that are not in the lexicon. Do not record from it.

Pronunciation key (from the canon):

- Vowels are pure, as in Spanish or Italian: a, e, i, o, u. They never glide into diphthongs.
- Neighbouring vowels are separate syllables. Say maivo as ma-I-vo, cuara as cu-A-ra, aurumi as a-u-RU-mi, liraasa as li-ra-A-sa with two distinct a's. Do not turn ia into "ya" or ua into "wa". This is the single most important thing for the model to hear clearly.
- Stress falls on the second-to-last syllable, always: TRES-sa, so-ra-o-pi-SI-a, nam-re-nu-ra-vu-NI-a, la-so-ju-re-vi-A-sa. The consonant-final words follow the same rule: A-mor, A-pok.
- Consonants are l m n r s v y (the core) and b d p t g h z k c f j. sh and ch appear only in shada (black) and ocha (eight).
- Word-final consonants are rare: -n at the end of every -san adjective, r in amor and its compounds, and k in apok. Release them gently.
- Medial clusters split across syllables: bal-bu, mas-ka, lel-ga. Initial clusters exist only as kr-, tr- and the one pr- in pressa.

Decide three sounds before you start. The lexicon fixes the spelling but never states the exact sound of c, j or r. Pick one value for each and keep it for every take; if your songs already settle them, match the songs. A reasonable default is c as in "coin", j as in "joy", and r as a light tap as in Spanish pero. Consistency matters far more than which choice you make, because the model will learn whatever you do.

Recording tips:

- Record each numbered paragraph as its own take, in a quiet room, at a fixed distance from the mic. 48 kHz WAV if you can.
- Leave a full second of silence between sentences. That makes it easy to cut the audio to match the one-sentence-per-line transcript file.
- Read at a calm, natural pace, about 5 to 6 minutes for the whole speech. Then, if you have the energy, record a second pass a little faster; two speeds help a model generalise.
- Let questions rise and the exclamation in paragraph 10 lift. Whisper nothing: the model needs your full voice first.

The speech

Li Valla — The Voice. Read each numbered paragraph as one take.

1	Sora raho lenila: eli-krono, maivo ka li valla.	Friend who listens: now, I am the voice.
	Lenila toda sonbu de maivo de valla, ata cunuca ko maivo:	Hear every sound of my voice, and count with me:
	una, dossa, tressa, cuara, penta, sesa, seta, ocha, niva, unzira.	one, two, three, four, five, six, seven, eight, nine, ten.
2	Li lumi patupa ala toda colbi:	The light divides into every colour:
	rubi ata ojo, aurumi ata azuri, verde ata vio, erta, vana ata shada.	red and orange, yellow and blue, green and violet, brown, white and black.
	Li rubilumi folni ka mosa vanisan en li ganre.	The pink flower is the most beautiful in the garden.
3	Merno hozi, li sulba lumila hupi li monru,	As for the morning, the sun shines above the mountain, li lavrari lavrala ala li navu, ata li belda beldaba en li vila.	the birds fly to the sky, and the bell rings in the village.
	Li nibe solmasia, ata li vamle ka verde.	The mist vanishes, and the valley is green.
4	Li danvu danvuda li linu; li milyu milyuma su li rofe.	The dog follows the child; the cat creeps on the roof.
	Li halra halraha da li madi, li derdi derdida hupi li galsa,	The horse gallops from the meadow, the deer leaps above the grass, ata li volda voldava en li nullo, kroti li huvu huvuha.	and the wolf hunts in the night, before the owl keeps watch.
	Li filse ka en li mirunulu, li valyu valyuva da li sevu,	The fish is in the river, the whale surfaces from the sea, li sebi sebisia en li sado, ata li mobe mobema li lumibiti.	the serpent slithers in the shadow, and the moth circles the lamp.

5	Maivo havliha. Maivo de vilneri vimova, maivo de felberi lenila,	I breathe. My eyes see, my ears hear,
	maivo de nulva nulvania li lonse, ata maivo de lenyo lenyola li yomla.	my nose smells the jasmine, and my tongue tastes the honey.
	Maivo fefefa, maivo menhama, maivo yediya, maivo merguma.	I lift my chin, I clench my jaw, I turn my wrist, I furrow my brow.
6	Li domlu ka vamdusan, nara li rumne ka vamdunasan.	The house is wide, but the room is narrow.
	Li pilo cemoca li bumre; li mare tabuta, ata li linuri resora.	The father cooks the bread; the mother sets the table, and the children laugh.
	Ki-nela po hifaha li kemye? Ki-pago ka li dorbi? Ki-kasa taivo zoguza?	Who stole the key? Where is the door? Why are you shouting?
7	Vebo, sumbi, vure, nilvu: li sorniri voprava.	Spring, summer, autumn, winter: the seasons turn.
	Zafra, li ruhe hiro zegoza; li vaye ka velbisan, ata li yelfa ruvara su li solo.	Suddenly the storm begins to shake; the wind is swift, and the ice frosts over the stone.
	Li sulme salrusia da li faru, ata li nevlo nevrania la lasosan.	The smoke rises from the fire, and the snow descends quietly.
8	Maivo surusia lavi, reso, neme ata larne;	I feel joy, laughter, sorrow and anger;
	follu, feyu, semra ata gilbu; salye, corvi, opi ata jurevi.	fear, disgust, shame and guilt; surprise, courage, hope and gratitude.
	Hema… maivo ne sabesia ki-oro taivo povi surusia tu.	Well… I don't know whether you can feel too.
9	Si taivo po noma ne lenila, maivo po viki ne senosia.	If you had not listened, I would not have spoken.
	Li vulra loki nuravunia, nara li yuge holbaha la velbinasan.	The wound still aches, but the body heals slowly.

#	Liraasa	English
	Toda-nela po venreva sabri li loteronela; saivo po tosu hirnaha seye.	Everyone came except the stranger; they must have escaped.
10	Maivo pressa senosia, ata maivo yehu vimova taivo.	I am speaking now, and I see you with my own eyes.
	Saivori po buyu venreva da li cilni, ata saivori milobema hoyo!	They came from the city, I'm told, and they are smiling — who knew!
	Li faru farufa, ata li lamsa ralnora su li tabu.	The fire burns, and the ash falls on the table.
	Maivo ne follufa li daigo; maivo kendeka li vohona korsi li voho.	I do not fear death; I strive for reconciliation instead of revenge.
	Ki-coda taivo nerponia? Li lirbu juseja, ata li lumi cereca toda-coda.	What are you waiting for? The leader renders justice, and the light makes everything clear.
	Lesvu maivo senosia; maivo de rezari ka loki zegosan.	Let me speak; my lips are still trembling.
	Taivo lukala pifu.	May you have luck.
11	Li krono tranata toda-coda: li cilni, li tamra, li teru, li vemi.	Time changes everything: the city, the land, the earth, the world.
	Li jomru ka lalnisan, nara maivo jomruja la corvisan.	The journey is long, but I travel bravely.
	Li lideo de juse ata li bio de amor ka itori raho maivo tivrota en maivo de lore.	The idea of justice and the life of love are the things I hold in my heart.
12	Maivo damvada ala li monru. Maivo de damvari ka lemvosan, nara maivo po vazdi keleka.	I stride toward the mountain. My legs are tired, but I managed to climb.
	Maivo kavbika li pesbi su maivo de reku ata maivo de menso.	I carry the weight on my chest and my shoulder.
	Li menme ralnora da maivo de fasbi, ata li barni lelgala en maivo de lelgari.	Sweat falls from my face, and blood courses in my veins.
	Maivo namrenuravunia; tonsi maivo somusia, ata li linuri lemula.	I have a headache; so I sleep, and the children study.

#	Liraasa	English
13	Taivo dagi livnala: oro lisrola, oro duvlada.	You may choose: either stay, or go.
	Yava ranfara korsi ralkara. Ne kulpaka maivo; maivo ne maskama.	Let us reason instead of fighting. Don't blame me; I am not pretending.
	Li nenga po tekvu saivori harluha, tonsi saivori po teklata.	The warning stopped them from taking the risk, so they halted.
	Maivo po navdinia baba silro intra li lolte, entre li morza ata li nonmo.	I found a secret within the ivy, between the violet and the lotus.
	Yesta en li lesma, maivo lelhila li sirla.	Even in the desert, I smell the scent of rain.
14	Kube li vesno venreva, maivo lavbula, ata maivo nerponia li luno.	When evening comes, I pray, and I wait for the moon.
	Maivo vismava ultra li navu baba velu raho nuna-nela po vismava.	Beyond the sky I notice a star that no one has noticed.
	Maivo po tavki momvima maivo de kende, nara maivo po vazdi vazrava.	I almost lost my goal, but I managed to win.
	Maivo meyima li bote, ata maivo punepa ito ala li sevu.	I mend the boat, and I push it toward the sea.
	Ki-eli lira taivo amora? Li liraasa, oro li loreasa?	Which song do you love? The song of the first stars, or the heart larger than sorrow?
15	Maivo jubaja taivo baba amorfolni ata baba amorrinba,	I give you a loving blossom and a loving ring,
	ko amormanli ata amorhavli, en eli amorjomru.	with loving hands and loving breath, on this loving journey.
	Maivo soraopisia taivo, sora. Maivo jurevija taivo, ko lasojureviasa.	I hope on your behalf, friend. I thank you, with gratitude beyond words.
	Eli ka li apoksan lira, nara li apok ka tu baba apokna.	This is the ending song, but the ending is also a beginning.
	Eli-krono li lira ke lasosan. Sizoasa… pifu.	Now the song falls silent. The shimmer of an endless sea of stars… may it be so.

Sound coverage

The speech has 58 sentences, 599 words and 1,303 syllables. Every sentence passes the 1.0 validator (no unknown words, correct clause order) and was back-translated from the lexicon alone to confirm the English.

Coverage was measured by breaking every spelling in the 1.0 lexicon (7,971 of them) into sound units, then checking which units the speech contains. It contains all of them:

Sound unit	In the language	In the speech	Rarest examples in the script
Single sounds (5 vowels, 18 consonants, sh, ch)	25	25	shada, ocha, azuri
Consonant + vowel syllables	90	90	cha, sha, zu, ci, gi, ja, cu, yi
Vowel-to-vowel hiatus pairs	11	11	aurumi (au), soraopisia (ao), ki-eli (ie), liraasa (aa)
Medial consonant clusters	77	77	ultra (ltr), intra (ntr), tekvu (kv), vazdi (zd), apokna (kn), apoksan (ks)
Word-initial clusters	3	3	krono, tressa, pressa
Word-final consonants	3	3	amor, apok, every -san
Adjacent sound pairs inside words	300	300	farufa (uf), buyu (uy), voho (oh), reza (ez)
Word lengths, 1 to 7+ syllables	7	7	lasojureviasa (7)

It also contains 96 different sound pairs across word boundaries, which train how words run together in real speech.

Sentence types are varied on purpose so the model hears different intonation: statements, yes/no and ki- questions, an exclamation with hoyo, commands, a hortative (yava), a counterfactual (noma … viki), an inference (tosu … seye), a hesitation (Hema…), and two counted or listed runs (numbers and colours).

When 1.1 is integrated, record one extra paragraph. The 21 proposed 1.1 roots bring four sound units that 1.0 does not have: the syllable je (jemla, insect) and the clusters vm (ravmi, divma, pavma), zm (lizma, left) and zn (rizno, right). Everything else in 1.1 is already covered here. The 1.1 lexicon file itself wasn't in this upload, so those sentences can't be validated yet.
